

THE POTATO CLAN

The Potato Clan

Patty Potato loves to try new things.
Her Mommy likes to dance, and her Daddy likes to sing.
Patty knew she wanted to be great like them one day.
She just needed someone to show her the way.

So she went outside to think and think.
And Mr. Broccoli walked up and gave her a wink.
He said, "Patty I think that you should start a band.
Get your parents on board, and then I know you can!"

And with that, she ran home and told them her plan.
Now she's the lead singer in the group called the Potato Clan.

FUN THINGS TO DO WITH YOUR CHILD

1. Ask your child, "I wonder what kind of music Patty Potato's mummy dances to?" or "I wonder what type of songs Patty Potato sings?".
2. Talk about the band Patty Potato has in her mind. Discuss the different instruments that she would have in a band.
3. Watch an orchestra or a band concert together at home on the television or the internet. Talk about the instruments and expose your child to different genres of music (e.g. classical, jazz, pop).

Tip

Spending time together builds a strong parent-child bond and helps create special memories for your child for a long time to come.
